Janet Stahelin Edmondson

Selina Rose

Alex R

Celebrate the last day of the London Design Festival with this one day opportunity to pick up distinctive pieces of contemporary craft for the home. Meeting the makers makes buying that much more special and with work on sale at a value un-matched in the shops this event is not to be missed. Ready to buy, the work on sale is by 10 selected designers whose interior products will make any house the envy of the street.

Pick up a hand crafted "butterfly box" by Tracey Bush containing butterflies cut from foreign postmarked letters, or embrace innovation with laser cut funky interior products by Selina Rose. RawXclusive work includes, intricately stitched and hand embellished cosmetic bags and luxury cushions. Ikuko Iwamoto offers exquisite ceramic cups in organic forms whilst Janet Stahelin Edmondson's jugs have elegant lace patterning suitable for any home.
